Aditya Birla Fashion – REDUCE

Annual report analysis

IIFL SECURITIES

Net debt doubles

ABFRL recorded a challenging FY24, with core formats such as lifestyle brands and Pantaloons posting a weak performance. Further, losses in new businesses, increase in working capital and acquisition of TCNS resulted in overall FCF outflow of Rs24bn and net debt doubling to Rs28.6bn in FY24, despite capital infusion by GIC. While the vertical de-merger would unlock value, it is likely to be completed only towards end of FY25. Maintain REDUCE rating with a target price of Rs275

Core formats struggle: Amid a weak consumption environment, lifestyle brands declined by 1% in FY24, even as Ebitda margin expanded 300bps to 19.6%. While Pantaloons reported 6% growth, the store network was rationalised with 43 gross store closures (14 net store closures) in FY24. Ebitda margin in Pantaloons contracted 264bps to 13% on a post IND AS basis, and we estimate that the format would have posted Ebitda loss on a pre IND AS level. The new businesses scaled up well with Sabyasachi growing 39% yoy and TASVA clocking a sales of Rs1bn during the year.

Net debt doubles: Pre IND AS Ebitda margin contracted by 224bps to 0.2%, dragged down by losses in new businesses such as TASVA, TMRW and TCNS (acquired during the year). Net working capital increased to 43 days (vs. 27 days in FY23) and the company incurred a capex of Rs7.5bn. Consequently, ABFRL recorded a free cash outflow of Rs8.4bn in FY24. Acquisition of 51% stake in TCNS for Rs16bn further drove an increase in overall net debt to Rs28.6bn, up from Rs14.2bn in FY23, despite capital infusion of Rs14.25bn by GIC (via conversion of warrants).

Challenging road ahead: The new businesses would continue to require capital for growth and even as the core formats revive and TCNS turns around in terms of profitability, net debt is likely to remain at elevated levels. The company reported further increase in net debt to Rs35bn in 1QFY25. While the vertical de-merger of the business would unlock value, it is likely to be completed only by end of FY25. Maintain REDUCE with a target price of Rs275.

Segmental performance

ABFRL has announced plans to execute a vertical de-merger into two entities – ABLBL (the entity to be demerged) and ABFRL (the remaining entity). The de-merger is likely to be completed by end of FY25.

ABLBL - Lifestyle brands

Lifestyle brands posted a weak performance in FY24, with revenues declining by 1% after posting a robust 46% growth in FY23. The brands have delivered a 4 year Cagr of 9%. The performance in FY24 was impacted by weak consumption environment and lower number of weddings in 2HFY24.

Channel mix within lifestyle brands was broadly stable in FY24. Share of wholesale channel continues to be significantly below pre Covid levels, with the company tapering down low profitability channels.

There was a slight increase in the number of EBO network within lifestyle brands in FY24, growing from 2,650 stores in FY23 to 2,679 stores in FY24. Retail area expanded by 5%, implying a 4% increase in average store size to ~1,400 sq. ft. Over the past six years, retail area has grown at a Cagr of 8% within lifestyle brands. Note that a large part of this store network is franchisee led.

In its annual report, the company shares key performance indicators for its retail network in lifestyle brands. Walk-ins increased by 1% yoy in FY24. However, adjusted for retail area addition (on a per sq. ft. basis), walk-ins were down 6% yoy. Compared to pre Covid, walk-ins per sq. ft. have been flat (vs. FY20).

Figure 4: Walk-ins per sq ft have been flat vs. pre Covid levels

Conversions which witnessed a step jump during Covid remain at a high level at 90%. Implied number of transactions (walk-ins multiplied by conversion) on a per sq. ft. basis were down 6% yoy but have grown at 13% Cagr over FY20.

Figure 5: Conversions have maintained at a high level since Covid

Like to like volume and value witnessed a sharp decline in FY24 at 14%/8% respectively. On a 4 year Cagr terms, the LTL performance is healthy with volumes growing at a Cagr of 5% and value growing at a Cagr of 11%.

Figure 6: LTL volume / value declined by 14%/8% in FY24 within lifestyle brands (retail portion)

Despite a weak top-line performance, lifestyle brands witnessed a sharp Ebitda margin expansion (post IND AS) of 300bps yoy. The expansion was driven by various measures such as product premiumisation, markdown management and deprioritizing lower profitability channels.

ABLBL - Other businesses

Other businesses within ABLBL comprise of multiple sub-segments.

- American Eagle posted a sales growth of 36% in FY24 driven by retail expansion (Store footprint includes 65 stores across 30+ cities complemented by presence in over 120 departmental stores) and focus on offering trendy apparel that resonates with younger consumers.
- Forever 21 continues to face headwinds in a challenging competitive environment. The company is pursuing a profitable asset light growth model with corrective actions such as optimisation of store network, re-sizing of stores, change in merchandise sourcing and product assortment, among others.
- Reebok brand crossed Rs4.5bn in sales and posted a positive Ebitda in FY24. The brand expanded its availability to more than 160 stores and 900+ trade outlets, including prominent departmental stores.
- Innerwear & athleisure posted flattish sales with innerwear growing at 7% while athleisure facing headwinds. The segment expanded its distribution network to over 35,000 trade outlets

Losses at Ebitda level (post IND AS) for other businesses within ABLBL moderated significantly to Rs80mn vs. Rs560mn reported in FY23.

ABFRL - Pantaloons

For Pantaloons, FY24 was a year of consolidation which witnessed 43 gross store closures (with 33 store closures in 4QFY24) and 29 gross additions, implying net store closures of 14 stores during the year. The format is working on premiumizing the retail experience with its new retail identity updated across 150+ stores. New private label brands introduced during the year include Peregrine (men's formals) and Honey Curvytude (for plus sized western wear). Fragrance category was also introduced with 10 variants under its private labels.

Overall retail area was flat during the year with a decline in overall number of stores from 431 in FY23 to 417 in FY24. In the past seven years, retail area at Pantaloons has grown at a Cagr of 9%, while average store area has remained broadly stable at 12,000-13,000 sq. ft. Management in its recent conference call highlighted that it would focus on metro, tier 1 and 2 towns in this format.

With pressure on LTL performance, Ebitda margin (post IND AS) contracted by 264bps to 13.0% in FY24. The company closed 33 underperforming stores in 4QFY24, which are likely to have a positive impact on profitability in this format. Pantaloons posted a sharp improvement in Ebitda margin in 1QFY25 – up 468bps to 17.6%.

ABFRL – Others

Super premium and luxury

The portfolio includes "The Collective" which is one of India's largest multi brand retailers of luxury and bridge to luxury brands, alongside select mono brands such as Ralph Lauren, Fred Perry, Ted Baker and Hackett London. The vertical grew 18% yoy driven by strong e-commerce growth, double digit LTL growth and expansion into new markets. The total store network spans 39 stores. The company has partnered with Galeries Lafayette with the flagship store in Mumbai expected to house over 200 luxury brands. The first store in Mumbai is under development and is expected to be launched next year.

TMRW

ABFRL established TMRW in April 2022 to build digital native brands targeting the younger consumers. These brands are available on all major e-commerce platforms and their own digital channels. In FY24, the company fortified its portfolio with acquisition of The Indian Garage Co. (TIGC). The TMRW portfolio includes D2C brands such as Bewakoof, TIGC, Beerylush, Juneberry, Veirdo, Natilene, Nauti Nati, Nobero, Urbano among others. Further, in June 2024, ABFRL acquired 16% stake in Universal Sportsbiz Pvt Ltd (USPL) which markets fashion apparels, footwear and accessories under the brand "Wrogn".

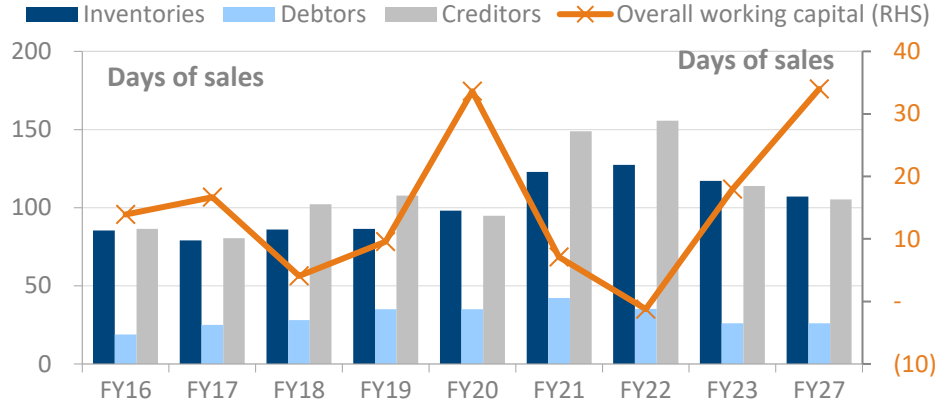
Net working capital, fixed assets and capex

ABFRL's net working capital in the standalone books increased from 18 days (days of sales) in FY23 to 34 days in FY24. Lower creditors have been broadly offset by lower inventories. However, other current assets have witnessed an increase (loans to subsidiaries or associates and increase in security deposits). Other current liabilities have also witnessed a decline during the year (lower return provisions).

Figure 34: Net working capital increased from 18 to 34 days of sales, driven by higher other current assets and lower other current liabilities



Source: Company, IIFL Research

While performance on the top-line front has been tepid, ABFRL has continued its capex investments in the normal course of the business. As a result, gross and net fixed asset turnover have moderated from 5.5x/10.9x in FY23 to 4.5x/7.8x in FY24 respectively.

The company incurred a capex of Rs5.5bn in FY24 (based on cashflow statement) driven by store expansion in Pantaloons (29 gross additions), investments in new businesses and back-end capex. As a percentage of sales, capex at 4.4% is slightly higher than the historical average of ~4%.

Cash flow and return profile

In FY24, ABFRL's FCF (organic) was an outflow of Rs1.4bn, impacted by a tepid top-line growth, margin contraction, increase in working capital and continued capex investments. Note that we exclude the cash outflow pertaining to acquisitions or investments in various subsidiaries, given that these are not included in the standalone P&L. ROIC excluding goodwill contracted further to 1.8% in FY24.

Consolidated financials

P&L

Consolidated revenues grew 13% yoy, with standalone sales growing at 5%, healthy growth in ethnic subsidiaries and D2C businesses and inorganic component of TCNS (contributing ~4% to growth). On a 4 year Cagr basis, consolidated sales have grown at 12%.

Source: Company, IIFL Research

Gross profit grew 13% yoy while gross margin was broadly stable in FY24 at 55.2%. Ethnic subsidiaries such as TASVA and Sabyasachi command a higher gross margin vs. the standalone business.

Source: Company, IIFL Research

While standalone employee costs were up 2%, consolidated employee costs increased by 17% yoy, driven by scaling up of ethnic subsidiaries such as Sabyasachi and acquisition of TCNS. Excluding TCNS, employee costs would have increased 11% yoy. As a percentage of sales, employee costs increased by 46bps to 13%

Source: Company, IIFL Research

Rental costs (adj. for IND AS 116 accounting) were up 15% yoy. As a percentage of sales, rental costs at 17.1% are up 31bps yoy and are higher than pre Covid levels of ~14%.

Figure 42: Rental costs were up 15% yoy and 31bps as a percentage of sales

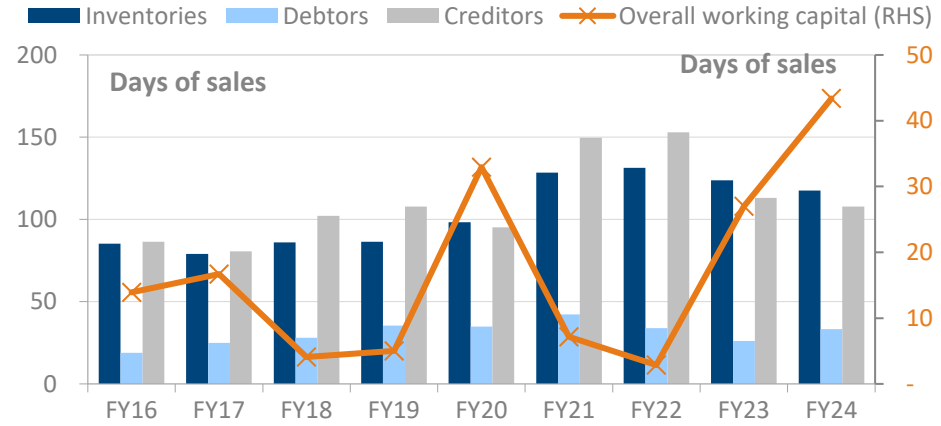
Net working capital, fixed assets and capex

Overall working capital witnessed a further increase, from 27 days in FY23 to 43 days in FY24. Net working capital requirements are higher in subsidiaries such as TASVA, Sabyasachi and TCNS. Further, sales of TCNS is consolidated for only half a year. The increase in working capital vs. FY23 is driven by increase in debtors, other current assets (security deposits) and moderation in creditors as well as other current liabilities (creditors for capital supplies).

Figure 45: Net working capital increased from 27 days in FY23 to 43 days in FY24



Source: Company, IIFL Research

In consolidated books, the gross and net asset turnover has contracted sharply vs pre Covid, owing to the inorganic expansion in recent years. In FY24, ABFRL made a large acquisition – TCNS and also added The Indian Garage Co within D2C brands.

Figure 46: Gross and net fixed asset turnover has moderated sharply post Covid due to inorganic acquisition

ABFRL incurred an organic capex of Rs7.5bn (based on cashflow statement), driven by standalone capex of Rs5.5bn and capex in ethnic subsidiaries. As a percentage of sales, organic capex at 5.3% is higher than the last 8yr average of 4.3%. Including inorganic capex (which includes acquisition amounts towards TCNS and TIGC), the overall capex was 16.8% of sales in FY24.

Cashflow and net debt

In FY24, ABFRL's FCF was an outflow of Rs24bn, impacted by multiple factors – margin contraction in core business, losses in new businesses such as TASVA and D2C, increase in working capital and a large acquisition of TCNS. Excluding the inorganic portion, FCF was an outflow of Rs8.4bn.

Despite infusion of Rs14.25bn from GIC, via conversion of warrants, overall net debt increased from 14.2bn in FY23 to 28.6bn in FY24. This is on account of FCF outflow on an organic basis, acquisition of TCNS and interest costs.

Background: Aditya Birla Fashion & Retail Ltd (ABFRL) is India's leading branded fashion player with a portfolio straddling across sub-segments and price points. ABFRL was formed in January 2016 through the merger of Madura Fashion (which was under Aditya Birla Nuvo Ltd then) and Pantaloons Fashion (which was acquired from Future Group in 2013). The company has two operating segments – Madura Lifestyle and Fashion which has a diversified channel mix (retailed through MBOs, EBOs and online) and Pantaloons which is a large format fashion retailer.

Price Target: Unless otherwise stated in the text of this report, target prices in this report are based on either a discounted cash flow valuation or comparison of valuation ratios with companies seen by the analyst as comparable or a combination of the two methods. The result of this fundamental valuation is adjusted to reflect the analyst's views on the likely course of investor sentiment. Whichever valuation method is used there is a significant risk that the target price will not be achieved within the expected timeframe. Risk factors include unforeseen changes in competitive pressures or in the level of demand for the company's products. Such demand variations may result from changes in technology, in the overall level of economic activity or, in some cases, in fashion. Valuations may also be affected by changes in taxation, in exchange rates and, in certain industries, in regulations. Investment in overseas markets and instruments such as ADRs can result in increased risk from factors such as exchange rates, exchange controls, taxation, and political and social conditions. This discussion of valuation methods and risk factors is not comprehensive – further information is available upon request.
